Helpful Hints for Interacting With Policy Makers and Officials

3. Telephone Calls:

Telephone calls should:

- Convey a meaningful message with helpful information.
- Be made in a timely manner.

Calls from constituents are the most effective. It is important to make your calls brief and to the point. Always be polite. If the legislator is not available, leave your message with a legislative assistant or other staff. The staff members will get your message to your legislator.

4. When you call:

- Identify yourself with your name, city or town of residence:
- If your call is regarding a specific bill, give the bill number and subject matter.
- State your support or opposition to the bill and a brief reason for your position.
- Request your legislator's support or opposition to the bill.
- Let your legislator know your availability to discuss the issue further.
- Leave your phone number.
- Express thanks.

Tips on Writing or E-Mailing a Member of the General Assembly or Congress

Senators and Representative pay attention to their mail (both regular and e-mail). It's good politics. Responding to constituents is crucial to re-election. Members know your vote can be won or lost by their responses.

Due to security issues, letters sent by U.S. mail are delayed. It is best to contact your U.S. Senator or Representative by email, phone or fax. The most effective letter is a personal one, not a form letter. The letter should be concise, informed and polite. Some Specific tips:

1. Contents of Letter or E-Mail

- Identify yourself as living in your legislator's district.
- Try to keep your letter to one page or two pages at most. Don't write on the back of a page and write legibly.
- State your purpose in a short, introductory paragraph. If the subject is a bill, cite the bill number and name. Cover only one issue or subject in the letter.
- Be factual and explain how the legislation will affect you, your family and others. Avoid emotion.
- If you believe the legislation should be opposed, say so. Give an example of how it may be harmful and suggest a different approach.

2. When Writing a Letter or E-Mail

- Make sure your name and address are legible.
- In an e-mail, make sure your name, e-mail address, mailing address and phone number are all included.
- When writing a letter, instead of "Mr." or "Ms." Use:
Dear Senator or Representative _____
Address
City, State, Zip Code
- Begin e-mail with:
Dear Senator _____ or
Dear Representative _____
